

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

High Point, NC – April 11, 2016

Discover the Shades of French Heritage during the Spring High Point Market 2016

Calm, Classic and Comfortable are the Shades of the French Heritage showroom this market, and they come together through the use of monochromatic shades in wood, paint and fabric selections. Come experience our play on chic neutrals and sophisticated simplicity as custom pieces become part of our regular selection and much more.

Shades of soft neutral tones blending together in a luxurious harmony. Soft hues applied to classic casegoods made of almost raw wood with just the right touch of detail and inlay. All accented by quality bench made upholstery clad in subtle and not so subtle fabrics that emphasize the comfortable materials of our luxury market.

The Cordoba Parquetry Dining Table, designed by French Heritage, was such a crowd-pleaser with its gorgeous stone inlay top that this market FH will have it available in different shapes and sizes. Similar to finding the perfect basic for your wardrobe, the Cordoba Parquetry Dining Table is a staple piece that is remarkably versatile and popular.

Also due to popular demand, French Heritage has augmented their Mid Century group, and several introductions will be on display during market. "We believe in evolving with the taste of our clients and we have the ability to fabricate anything, this truly sets French Heritage apart from the rest" said Henessy Wayser, President of French Heritage.

Members of the press are cordially invited to discover the Shades of French Heritage and experience French Heritage's warm Joie-de-Vivre and intimate hospitality. We will have a brunch for members of the press on Monday April 18 from 8am to 11am. Additionally, Our Cordon Bleu chef, Blake Elsinghorst, will prepare French gourmet breakfast, lunch, and hors d'oeuvres each day of market. Join us at the French Heritage main showroom located at 1638 English Rd., High Point, NC 27262.
