- A first for ABDB, the owners are looking forward to expanding their reach in the prestigious market.
- The partnership with Mill Collective is a first for both studios as they look forward to collaborating.

HIGH POINT, NORTH CAROLINA – Award-winning custom furniture studio ABDB Designs is coming to High Point Market. A first for the multidisciplinary firm that creates made-to-order items of functional artwork for residential & commercial spaces, owners Djivan Schapira and Andrew James are very much looking forward to experience the market.

“Having recently completed some one-off pieces that were not commissioned, I felt like this was the perfect opportunity to showcase my work to a new market of top interior designers and makers.” – says ABDB Designs Co-Founder, Artist, and Head Designer/Maker Djivan Schapira.

ABDB Co-Founder Andrew James adds: “We understand that High Point Market is the mecca of the United States furniture industry, and frankly, we’re just thrilled to be a part of it. We greatly appreciate Tim & Mill Collective for bringing us on board alongside the other exceptional artists they represent.”

Included in the set of four furniture items heading to High Point Market are the Off the Grid Center Table, Paradise Cocktail Table, Réflexion Vanity Mirror, and Tall Atlas End Table.

Each of these items features ABDB's patented design technique of embedding recycled cross-cuts of end grain in custom colored resin, and are finished in either high-gloss and satin, showing off their favorite line: each piece by nature, is a limited edition.

It must be acknowledged that this entire operation is thanks to Mill Collective, Founder & CEO Tim Branscome's unicorn idea for showcasing the work of underrepresented furniture industry makers in a big way. Currently enlisting a roster of 70+ artists, the Mill Collective preaches collaboration, creating a space for their artists to have a powerful platform like High Point Market, and also provide a new outlook on what it means to work together and connect with interior designers from around the world.

If you are attending the High Point Market from October 16-22nd in High Point, North Carolina, visit Mill Collective's studio space on the third floor of the Bobo Intriguing Objects Showroom, located at 300 W Broad Ave, 3rd Floor, High Point, NC 27262.
