BDI Introduces LINQ Office

New Lineup of Office Furniture Expands on LINQ Bedroom Collection

CHANTILLY, VA — Feb. 28, 2024 — BDI announces it is expanding on its LINQ Bedroom Collection with the new LINQ Office, a suite of furniture that brings LINQ's subtly curved, feature-rich aesthetic to the workspace.

The LINQ Office debut will include an executive desk and matching credenza, offering a Mad Men-era-inspired collection for the home office. Designed by BDI's Associate Design Director Matthew Weatherly, LINQ Office will showcase during the Spring High Point Market, in BDI's showroom, IHFC D-724.

LINQ EXECUTIVE DESK

The gorgeous LINQ Executive Desk boasts a floating-desktop aesthetic, bringing a unique design appeal to the office. Beyond its design, the desk includes a wealth of functional features that enhance the workday:

- Pull-out keyboard drawer that is lined for use as a mousepad or for charging devices, and includes side compartments to keep smaller items close at hand
- Locking file drawers offer space for office essentials while keeping contents secure
- Wire management channels keep cables organized and hidden
- Integrated power hub includes a power strip with AC and USB outlets
- Removable inner-access panel keeps bundled cords out of sight
- Removable drawer trays can fit the upper or lower drawers and help keep smaller items organized
- Measures 29H x 70W x 32D in.

LINQ CREDENZA

The matching LINQ Credenza offers the space and flexibility every executive needs to keep office essentials close-at-hand. It includes:

- Locking drawers that include a storage drawer and a deep file drawer
- Pull-out printer tray offering flexible functionality, ideal for printers or all-in-one devices
- Movable shelves to accommodate a range of office needs
- Measures 29H x 70W x 20D in.

"LINQ Office changes the notion of what an executive office should be," said Bill Becker, BDI's CEO and Design Director. "In addition to the collection's natural walnut aesthetics, LINQ Office is complete with user-friendly features and luxury touches that elevate the workspace. After the successful introduction of the LINQ bedroom suite, we knew we had to bring a companion collection into the home office, which continues to be a growing category for BDI."

Both the LINQ Executive Office Desk and LINQ Credenza will begin shipping in Q2 2024.
