Noz Nozawa Launches Debut Lighting Collection with Corbett, Inspired by Her Passion for Jewelry Design

Wappingers Falls, New York, April 9th - Corbett Lighting, Hudson Valley Lighting Group's luxury and sophisticated-chic brand, has released a collection of lighting with San Francisco-based interior designer Noz Nozawa. Merging Noz's illustrious interior design career and passion project of designing jewelry, her debut lighting collection tells the brilliant story of what's possible when these two art forms collide.

Noz Design has earned a reputation for creating one-of-a-kind, immersive residential and commercial spaces focusing on narrative and a collected over-time aesthetic. Noz is known for her commitment to artful and highly personal interiors. Fearless in her design choices, her spaces are grounded in a commitment to helping her clients access joy and love through the process and have earned her projects across the country as well as many industry accolades.

The collection consists of 16 pieces, including sconces, chandeliers, and pendants, starting at $649. "Lighting - especially layered lighting - is the thing that makes a room feel complete and is an incredibly powerful component of the experiential design of a room, from the placement of architectural lighting to the decorative lighting that adds so much dimension to a space," says Noz.

In keeping with the jewelry motif, each family is named after the specific jewelry reference it is inspired by, such as the Bezel and Riviere. A stunning collection designed for maximum home embellishment, from a vibrantly wallpapered powder room where modest sconces add balance to a tranquil living room where the chandelier plays a starring role, fanciful details like the draped gold chain of the Lariat chandelier and repeated mariner link throughout the collection evoke the familiarity and warmth of jewelry.

Noz's collection will be on display at High Point Market in North Carolina, April 13 - 17.
