FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Hinkley Presents Expanded Lisa McDennon Collection at High Point Market

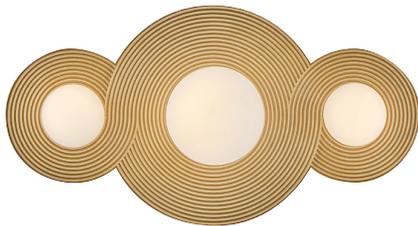

Avon Lake, Ohio—Hinkley and award-winning interior designer Lisa McDennon will be releasing the largest expansion of the Lisa McDennon Lighting Collection with 33 new innovative designs being presented during this October's High Point Market. The Lisa McDennon Collection from Hinkley offers an eclectic blend of sculptural fixtures that seamlessly bridge traditional and modern West Coast styles. Striking, geometric silhouettes incorporate a playful mix of textures, featuring innovative glass and textile elements alongside fresh finishes.

"I am continually drawn to exploring new materials and sources of inspiration, whether through in-depth product research or through immersive travel experiences," says Designer Lisa McDennon. "By giving myself the freedom to embark on new adventures and participate in industry-related events around the world, I find that my creative horizons expand in ways I never imagined. I have made a conscious effort to step beyond the familiar, embracing the chance to learn about diverse designs and cultures. My list of destinations to explore continues to grow, each one offering the potential to enrich my design perspective.

"This season's release maintains the core concepts and original inspiration for my collection, which is one of design blended with artistic elements – artisan details combined with layered textures and materials. Stylistically, these fixtures are more diverse in terms of design, but they are rooted in inspirations gathered from my daily life and travels."

"I'm excited by how many of this season's designs are inspired by rhythmic patterns layered upon each other..."

"Take, for instance, Rhea—its delicate micro-ribbed brass details paired with the figure-eight configuration truly stand out."

"Or the 10-foot Skye in white and brass is an absolute showstopper, perfect for grand entryways. I can't decide if I am more thrilled by the striking white glass and brass finish combination or its impressive size!"

"Sura and Lyla, both hexagonal pendants, each boast unique personalities, with brass chains and ribbed glass details that are simply delightful."
