"Each week on Bargain Mansions Tamara used several pieces of her Tamara Day by Spectra Home collection in the old mansions that she transformed into beautiful dream homes," stated Jim Telleys, president of Spectra Home. "The exposure on her show has increased the collection's retail sales from her followers who are asking for the pieces that were featured. To support this growth, we have added more stylish sofas, chairs and ottomans in new, fresh fashion-forward fabrics that can stand up to the everyday rough treatment from pets and kids. In addition, designers and retailers can create a customized look for any piece in the collection by selecting from over 183 fabrics along with welts and nailhead accents through our Custom Design Program."

"I have enjoyed using the versatile Spectra Home upholstery pieces in the homes on my show," commented Day, host of Bargain Mansions. "They work well in a wide range of settings from modern to super traditional and are perfect for not only the homes featured on Bargain Mansions but also retail customer's homes as well."

"Spectra Home is still committed to donating a portion of the proceeds from the Tamara Day by Spectra Home collection to The Common Thread for the Cure Foundation to help provide financial grants to those battling breast cancer in the design and home furnishings industry," Telleys concluded.
