

TO TUCK OR NOT TO TUCK, AMITY HOME RE-INTRODUCES THE BEDSPREAD

Amity Home is thrilled to announce the re-introduction of the classic bedspread, a timeless bedding essential that combines both style and function. A nod to the past with its “tucking of the pillows”—a ritual cherished by the old guard—this update brings the bedspread into the modern age. For the next generation of trendsetters, this design offers a fresh minimalist approach while celebrating the glory of the textile. Ready to throw off those extra layers or pare down to the bare minimum? Amity Home has you covered—pillows and all.

This reimagined bedspread is all about luxury, practicality, and ease of care. Whether you’re indulging in the sumptuous texture of bouclé, the hearty richness of linen, or the classic elegance of striped patterns, Amity Home offers an elevated option for every style. These pieces are designed not only for beauty but also for effortless maintenance, offering a streamlined yet polished look that fits seamlessly into any bedroom.

“Our goal with this bedspread re-introduction is to bring a sense of comfort and ease, while embracing the best of textile luxury,” says Ben Chhabra, President at Amity Home. “Whether you’re revisiting a classic or discovering the simplicity of minimalism, our bedspread offers both style and substance—pillows tucked or not!”

Amity Home’s new bedspread collection will be available in our best-selling, of-the-moment bouclé, a luxurious hearty linen, and everyone’s favorite stripe, bringing fresh options to elevate your space.
