CARACOLE PREVIEW 2025

Caracole Brings Italian-Inspired Design and Joyful Living to High Point Market

HIGH POINT, NC | April 2025 —After a highly acclaimed debut at Salone del Mobile in Milan, Caracole returns home to High Point Market with renewed creative energy and the continued momentum of its global collaboration with Claudio Bellini Studio. From April 24–30, the brand invites the design community to visit its North American showroom at 122-C North Hamilton Street, where Caracole's joyful philosophy of living will take center stage.

"Caracole has entered a new era that embraces quiet luxury, elegant forms, timeless beauty, and the pleasure of refined living," said Trish Hayes, Vice President of Creative at Caracole.

"Milan was a pivotal moment for us, and now we're bringing a taste of that inspiration to High Point."

During Market, Caracole will host two exclusive events that offer a deeper look at the brand's evolution:

Sunset Social | Saturday, April 26 | 5:30–8:30 PM

Celebrate the weekend on our rooftop terrace with live music, passed hors d'oeuvres, and spirited conversation. Raise a glass to design and community in a vibrant, elevated atmosphere.

Candid Conversation with Designer Claudio Bellini | Sunday, April 27 | 3–4 PM

Join us in the Caracole space during High Point Market for a casual conversation with world-renowned designer Claudio Bellini, VP of Creative Trish Hayes, and Director of Design Christopher Sandomenico. They'll introduce the latest collections from CLAUDIO BELLINI Studio, share insights from our Salone del Mobile.Milano debut, and discuss our evolving design philosophy informed by the latest global trends.

Following a successful launch in Milan, Caracole's collaboration with Claudio Bellini Studio introduces a refreshing creative voice to the American market. The collections, Fleur and Overlap, reflect a synergy between Bellini's poetic, emotionally resonant design and Caracole's mission to elevate life at home.

Bellini approaches design as a way to stir emotion — shaping not just furniture, but moments of comfort, beauty, and connection that enrich everyday life.

Visit Caracole's showroom to explore new collections, reconnect with the brand, and experience firsthand the craftsmanship and creativity that have positioned Caracole as a rising force in global luxury design.
