Mangosteen Publishing LLC Announces the Opening of Mangosteen Art Prints: A New Art Publishing Platform and Online Store Bringing Vibrant, Customizable Abstract Art Prints to Spaces Across America

Hampstead, North Carolina – March 2, 2026 – Mangosteen Publishing LLC is thrilled to announce the official launch of Mangosteen Art Prints, an innovative art publishing platform and online store dedicated to transforming living and working spaces with high-quality, expressive abstract art prints.

Founded in Hampstead, North Carolina, Mangosteen Art Prints invites art enthusiasts, homeowners, designers, and gift-givers to discover a curated collection of colorful, vibrant abstract designs that go beyond mere decoration—they serve as windows to the soul, inspiring creativity and daily joy.

At the heart of Mangosteen Art Prints is a commitment to collaboration and community, with services ranging from reproduction, image editing, curating and installation in and around Wilmington, NC.

The platform partners with talented children, artists, and designers to create diverse, seasonal collections available for customization, with previous collections always accessible for browsing and purchase via desktop or mobile devices. Stay tuned for Spring 2026, Coming Soon! The print on demand process ensures that each piece is made fresh and unique, since the company does not mass produce products.

Key features include:

- Gallery-Quality Production and Sustainability: Prints are crafted using premium, fade-resistant inks and archival paper, photo paper, or vinyl canvas for vivid colors, crisp details, and lasting durability. Future options will expand to include cotton canvas, acrylic, metal, and peel-and-stick formats, with an emphasis on sustainable materials and practices. Frames are custom made and ship faster than other platforms.
- Fully Customizable Options: Customers can select from a wide range of sizes—from intimate pieces to large statement art—and preview framing styles in real time. Coming soon is the ability to ‘View in Room’ so customers can match pieces to their spaces. Special requests are warmly accommodated, including color changes, rotations, flips, cropping, diptychs/triptychs, double matting, museum-grade glass, painting my print, and more. Personalized curation assistance is available to match designs together while also complementing individual styles and spaces.

- User-Friendly Upload and Printing: Shoppers can easily upload their own or their precious kids' designs for printing on wall art or home decor products—no editing software required. The graphic designers review wall art files for quality and sizing, and offer free basic editing services. As for home decor products that go straight to production, customers need to ensure their files are print ready, and if not, they can use our low cost editing services prior to product purchase. The products include duvet covers, towels, rugs, cushions, blankets, shower curtains, curtains, plates, and more. Reproduction services are also offered, including photographing and editing files from a customers' original artworks for printing big (simply mail pieces to the Hampstead address for professional handling, and expect a high resolution image back.)

"Mangosteen Art Prints is more than an online store—it's a celebration of art that brings warmth, personality, and inspiration to everyday spaces, it is noticing the work of kids so they can feel seen and heard" said a representative from Mangosteen Art Prints. "We believe your walls deserve to reflect who you are, and we're making it effortless and affordable to fill them with pieces you'll love living with every day." Whether refreshing a home, energizing an office, or selecting a meaningful gift, Mangosteen Art Prints delivers bold art that sparks conversations, sets positive moods, and turns any space into an art collector's haven—all at accessible prices.
