

Milton & King Introduces Far Horizons by Sweeney Studio

A PAINTERLY WALLCOVERING COLLECTION BY WESTERN AUSTRALIAN ARTIST DESMOND SWEENEY

Milton & King announces the launch of Far Horizons, a new collection of painterly wallcoverings created in collaboration with Sweeney Studio, the creative practice of Western Australian artist and muralist Desmond Sweeney.

Drawn from Desmond's original landscapes and seascapes, Far Horizons explores the Australian landscape through movement, atmosphere and the changing quality of light. Sweeping ocean scenes, distant ridgelines, wooded terrain and softened coastlines are translated from paint to wallcovering, with expressive brushwork and tonal variation remaining visible throughout each design.

A Painter's View

At the heart of Far Horizons is Desmond's relationship with Australian landscape and his ability to capture a sense of place without rendering it literally. Familiar environments become studies in colour, light and distance, shaped through broad brushstrokes, softened transitions and painterly gesture.

Desmond's background in traditional sign painting, scenic art and large-scale mural work gives his practice a natural connection to architecture. That experience carries through Far Horizons, where each composition has been created to hold presence across an entire wall while remaining connected to the wider interior.

The collection centres on four Australian scenic designs:

Swell captures the gathering movement of the ocean through sweeping brushwork, mineral colour and a softened horizon. (Available on Non-Woven, Grasscloth and Commercial Vinyl).

Great Divide looks across an expansive Australian landscape, where distant ridgelines, open country and shifting light recede towards the horizon. (Available on Non-Woven, Grasscloth and Commercial Vinyl).

Valewood moves into wooded terrain, with softened foliage, distant hills and atmospheric depth creating an immersive sense of place. (Available on Non-Woven, Grasscloth and Commercial Vinyl).

Longshore sits between landscape and abstraction, allowing shoreline, sky and water to dissolve into broad passages of colour. (Available on Grasscloth and Commercial Vinyl).

Far Horizons has been developed as more than a collection of scenic wallcoverings. Coordinating grasscloths and textured commercial vinyls extend colours drawn from Desmond's original paintings into the wider interior, allowing designers to connect artwork, texture and tone across adjoining spaces.

The companion palette moves through dune, limestone, sienna, ochre, fern, blue gum, Atlantic and gloaming, alongside corresponding commercial vinyl colours designed for hospitality, retail and other high-traffic environments.

The collection is available across non-woven wallpaper, natural grasscloth and trade-only commercial vinyl, giving homeowners and design professionals the flexibility to select the surface best suited to each project. Natural grasscloth brings organic texture and variation to the artwork, while commercial vinyl allows the collection to extend into guestrooms, restaurants, corridors, retail and other demanding interior settings.

ABOUT SWEENEY STUDIO

Sweeney Studio is the creative practice of Western Australian artist and muralist Desmond Sweeney. Working across painting, scenic art and large-scale murals, Desmond's work is shaped by landscape, atmosphere and scale.

His expressive seascapes and landscapes are defined by visible brushwork, softened transitions and an intuitive understanding of how artwork can live within architecture. Through his collaboration with Milton & King, this painterly approach is translated into wallcoverings that bring art, material and landscape together across the interior.
