Milton & King Presents Northland - Spirit of the Wilderness

A WALLPAPER AND FABRIC COLLECTION SHAPED BY UNTAMED LANDSCAPES, EXPRESSIVE MARK-MAKING AND ENDURING PATTERN.

Milton & King presents Northland, a Milton & King Studio wallpaper and fabric collection inspired by untamed northern landscapes, where mountains, forests and waterways are shaped by wind, weather and time. Hand-painted and hand-drawn throughout, the collection moves between abstract terrain, organic forms, heritage checks and geometric motifs, bringing an artistic sense of movement, texture and place to interiors.

Northland is a homage to the more unexpected side of nature - with its irregular forms, wild terrains, shifting textures and imperfect details inspiring a more expressive and instinctive creative process. I wanted to capture that sense of freedom while maintaining a restrained and considered balance, often looking beyond wallpaper to heritage textiles and cloth that brings a softer, more tactile quality and a sense of harmony across the collection.

YASMIN SMITH
HEAD OF DESIGN

(Brighton, United Kingdom)

Inspired by the raw beauty of northern landscapes, Northland explores the relationship between nature, pattern and mark-making through an expressive, interior-led lens. Sweeping brushstrokes evoke waterways and shifting terrain, while tartans, plaids, checks and geometric forms draw on enduring textile traditions. Together, the designs create a collection that feels rugged yet refined, balancing artistic freedom with structure and rhythm.

Mountain landscapes, weathered surfaces and heritage textiles guide Northland's design language. Hand-painted brushwork and hand-drawn details reveal the maker's touch across the collection, moving from fluid abstract forms to structured checks and geometric repeats. Earthy tones of walnut, ochre, olive, clay, stone and deep charcoal bring warmth and mineral depth, while softer neutrals and monochrome palettes offer a more restrained expression.

Key highlights include:

Expressive mark-making – hand-painted and hand-drawn designs that capture the movement of wind, water and shifting terrain.

Heritage pattern – tartans, plaids, checks and structured motifs reinterpreted through a contemporary artistic hand.

Specialty finishes – selected designs offered across grasscloth, metallic, decorative textile and vinyl, allowing pattern to take on new texture, depth and character.

Printed-on-demand, each wallcovering is produced to order, helping reduce waste while maintaining the quality and craftsmanship central to Milton & King. The collection is available across a range of substrates including:

- Non-Woven Wallpaper
- Grasscloth
- Decorative Textile
- Metallic
- Commercial Type II Vinyl
- Fabric (USA only)

Selected colourways are available across specialty substrates, giving designers and homeowners greater freedom to work with pattern, texture and finish across a range of residential, hospitality and commercial interiors.

From large-scale statement designs to smaller checks and structured repeats, Northland offers a versatile palette for creating spaces with warmth, character and a strong connection to the natural world.
