AFRICAN DÉCOR COLLECTIONS BRING HARMONY AND HERITAGE TO EXISTING SPACES

Embrace art. Embrace culture. Embrace tradition.

[ATLANTA, GA, MAY 21, 2021] Having always had an affinity with the colorful fabrics and wax print designs of her native Ghana, Muriel Sackey set out to share the beauty of this innovative technique further afield.

Dating back to the 1880s, wax printing was popular among African craftspeople as a way of reflecting and honoring the intricacies of their culture.

Today, Embrace brings its signature patterns, motifs, and inspired geometrics to the contemporary home. From June 5-9 at the High Point Market Trade Show, it will debut with three curated collections:

EPHATA Wallpaper Collection: Abundant in warmth and personality, these traditionally patterned wallpapers come 27" x 27" and are distinctly crafted with 100% unpasted paper in a glossy or matte finish.

SANKOFA Throw Pillow Collection: A symphony of color, these vibrant hand-cut and hand-sewn, made-to-order items can be ordered as complete 20" x 20" or 22" x 12" throw pillows with premium down inserts, or as pillow covers only.

Embrace Ottoman Collection: Fabricated with authentic wax print fabric designs, these pieces are carefully handmade by skilled artisans, and add a captivating point of interest to any room.

Stylish, adaptable, and now accessible to the modern interior designer, the new first-time-seen collections are a seamless way to connect with the continent's creative spirit and rich heritage.

Complement your space with a statement piece or experience the possibilities of blended design to create a look that's uniquely yours.
