

ARTIST BIO SIOBHAN O'DWYER

Every little thing she does is magic. Siobhan O'Dwyer is a digital creative influencer and artist based in New York City and California. Catch her if you can.

In her acclaimed Wildflower Collection, Siobhan utilizes a collage effect, juxtaposing flower imagery atop landscapes (and cityscapes). Siobhan modernizes traditional landscape and floral still-life photography, toying with perspective, sweetening color and adding hand-etched details.

Splashworks, the High Point-based art reproduction and home décor brand, is set to introduce five new Wildflower Collection pieces at the Spring 2022 High Point Market

Each faithfully reproduced piece is available in a variety of sizes – gallery-wrapped on hemp or canvas – with many frame options. Splashworks serves the interior design community. Customizations are most welcome.

The art of Siobhan O'Dwyer is featured on multiple platforms, from whimsical graphic tees to magazine covers. No wonder! Siobhan finds inspiration everywhere. Music, history, fashion and poetry all inform her vibrant, free-spirit and her art, now showing at Splashworks.
