PRADO

---

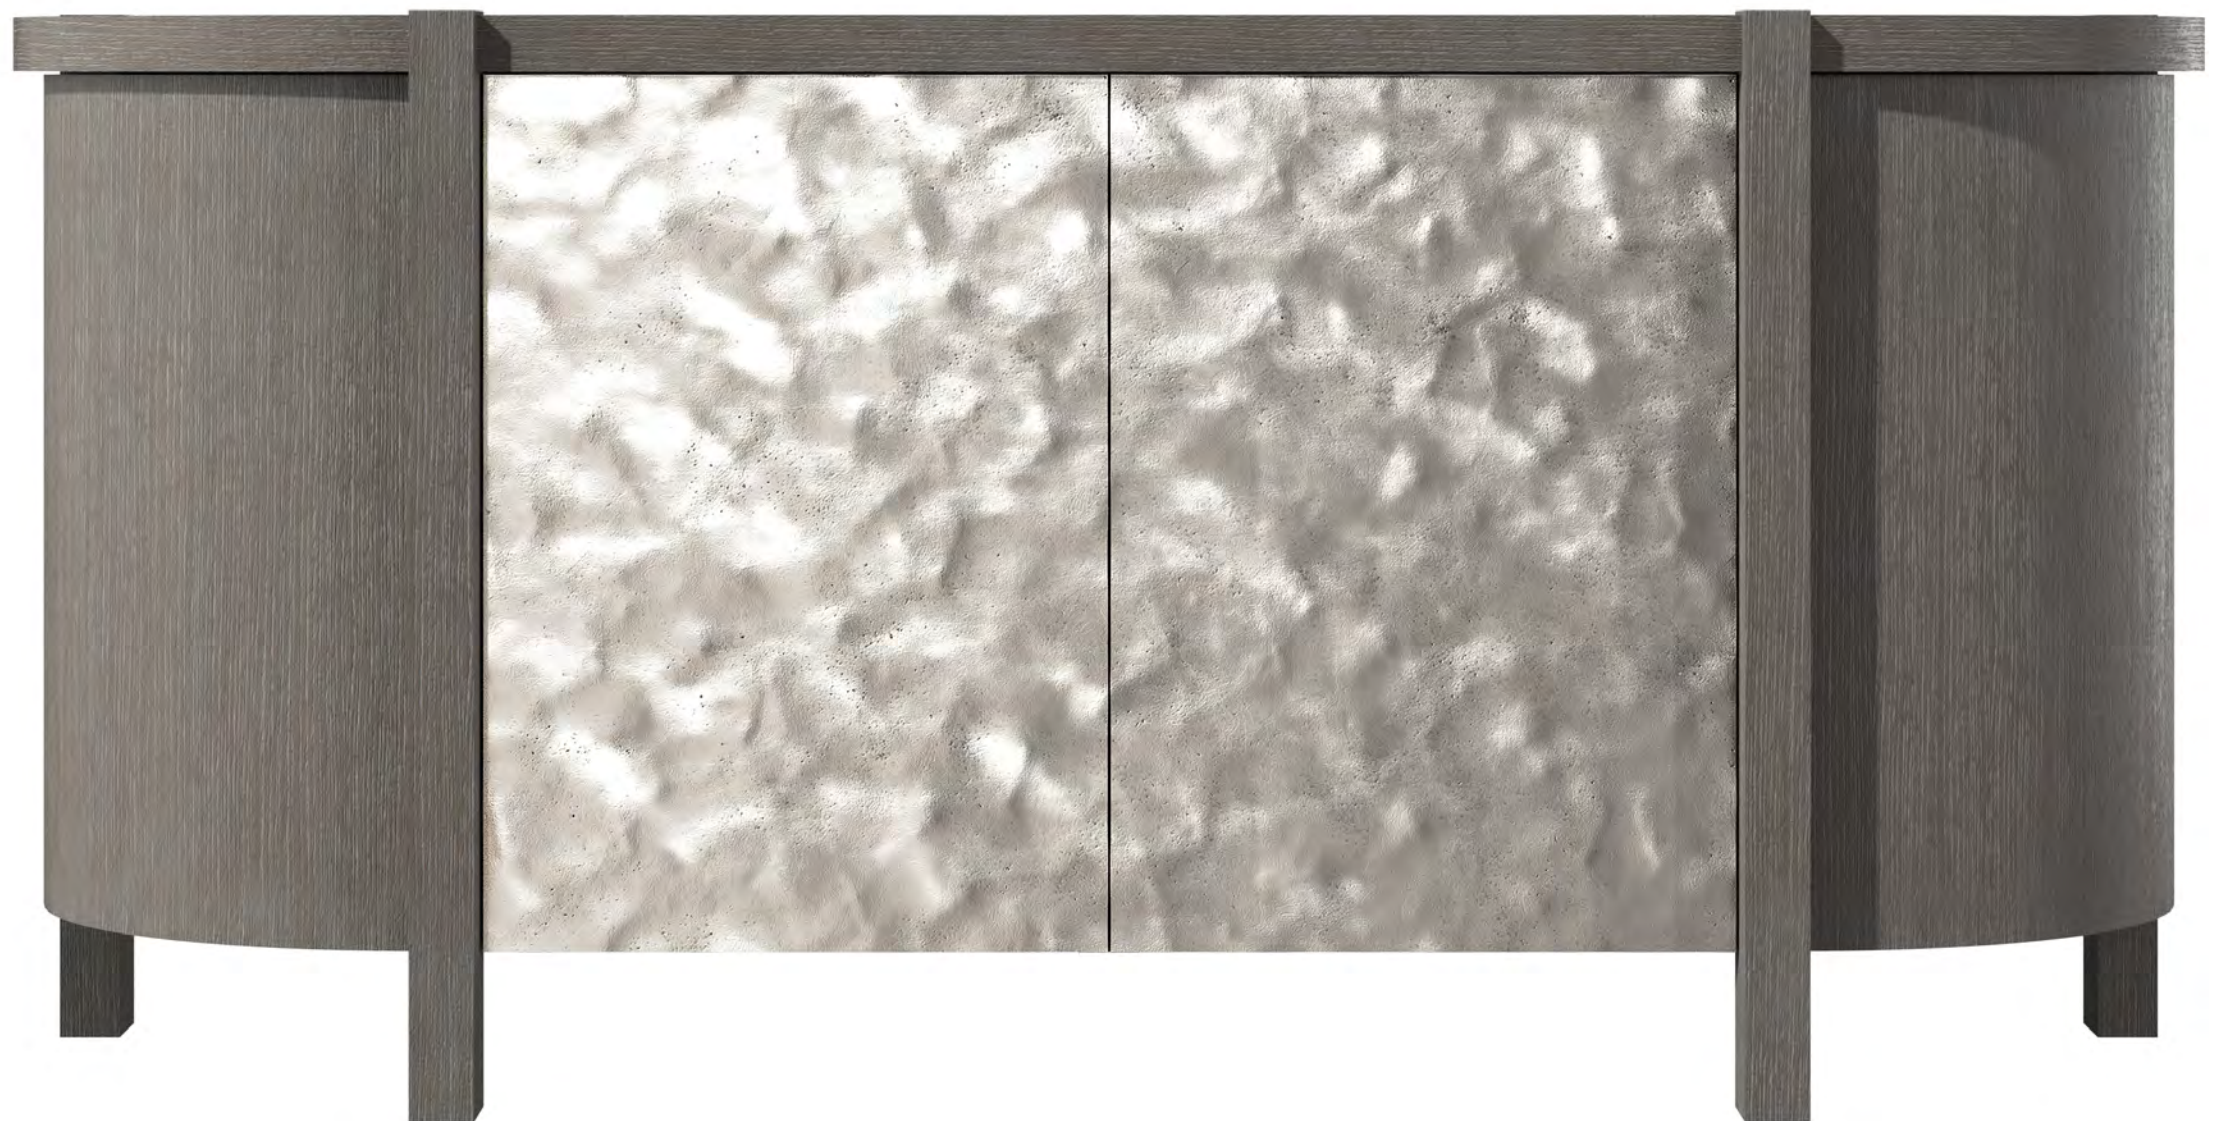

Prado combines bold structure and contemporary design with classical elements in a novel approach to modern rustic. Textural finishes and hammered metal add depth and dimension to streamlined forms, while the muted tones of concrete soften geometric profiles. Coffered surfaces find harmony and subtle drama in the repetition of form, resembling the iconic ceilings in the Prado in Madrid. Monolithic pieces suggest an architectural influence, giving the collection a cool, timeless vibe. The look has a curated feel, merging unexpected genres with an elevated aesthetic and molding the idea of modern rustic into a new form.

STRATUM

Sleek and sophisticated, Stratum builds on a modernist perspective with a subtle hint of glamour. Intersecting planes and precise geometry are softened by a serene grey veneer and luminous marble. Angled panels pieced together like origami create interesting areas of shadow and light. Polished Nickel adds brilliant shine, framing the clean lines of minimalist forms. Key statement pieces are made with sculpted door fronts, featuring an intricate pattern reminiscent of the movement of wheat fields. The collection has a fresh lightness with a look that's elevated and unique, balancing understated beauty with moments of bold texture and elusive drama.
